ITALIAN MOBS

CAUSE TERROR

Parade Streets of Milan While Police Are Powerless to Act

'DOWN WITH GERMANY'

King Victor Emmanuel Orders Convocation of Chamber of Deputies Early Next Week.

Milan, May 15—Mobs paraded the streets today, shouting "Down with the Kaiser." The police made no serious effort to restrain the crowds.

Rome, May 15—To head off possible civil war, King Victor Emmanuel today signed a decree convoking the chamber of deputies early next week, according to reports from authoritative sources.

The King acted on advice of leaders of both interventionist and neutral factions. Serious rioting by mobs favoring war broke out afresh today and the King was told the situation was rapidly getting beyond control of the military.

According to Giornale d'Italia, the final act of the Salandra cabinet was the denunciation of part of the triple alliance treaty binding Italy to Germany and Austria. This step, the newspaper said, was taken to leave Italy free to declare war without delay.

Parliament was not scheduled to meet until next Thursday. Because of the crisis precipitated by the unexpected resignation of the Salandra cabinet, the King, according to authentic reports, has determined to call the deputies together Monday or Tuesday. The decree has not been made public.

Whole sections of Rome were under mob control today, the military and police being apparently unable to suppress the demonstrations. The entire city was seething with war excitement. Business was suspended stores were closed, and despite the activity of cavalry patrols crowds marched through the streets shouting "Down with Germany," "Down with the Kaiser," "Down with Franz Josef."

For the second time within twenty four hours a mob of interventionists invaded the parliament building, smashed windows and wrecking furniture.

HANGED FOR MURDER

Wilmington Gunman Blames Dope
For His Crimes

Wilmington, Del., May 15—Peter Krakus, the gunman who killed Patrolman Francis X. Tierney and wounded three other policemen of this city in a pistol duel, March 6, walked up the steps of the gallows at the workhouse yesterday morning and in a quivering voice told his hearers that dope and bad companions were responsible for his plight.

Krakus declared that he was crazed with morphine the morning he did the shooting. He admitted that he did the shooting. He admitted that he was a member of a gang of gunmen and thieves operating in New England, and he declared that New York and Boston police officers were connected with the gang receiving money from the members.

As the murderer ended his statement the black cap was pulled over his head, the noose adjusted and the trap sprung at 10:21 o'clock. Eleven minutes later he was pronounced dead.
The body was allowed to hang five minutes longer before it was cut down.
The remains were not claimed, and will be buried in the Cathedral Cemetry by Polish priests of the city.

In his final statement the condemned man denied any connection with the murder of the Rev. Joseph Ze-bris pastor of the Lithuanian Church of St. Andrew, in New Britain, Conn., and the housekeeper of the priest, Eva Gilman. He denied that Bernard Montvid, who was arrested here with him, was implicated in the murder, although Montvid, who is awaiting trial for the murder in New Britain, has confessed that he stood outside while Krakus and three others killed others killed the pair.

SMALL SUPPLIES IN MARKET.
Comparatively Few Country People or Buyers Present This Morning.

While the rains of this week are reported to have animated truck gardens in this section, there were small offerings of country produce in market this morning.

Butter sold at 35 cents a pound, eggs 25 cents a dozen, and poultry was held at former prices. Although the supply of vegetables was small, it met the limited demand. Home-grown strawberries sold at from 10 to 15 cents a box, rhubarb 4 cents a bunch, lettuce 5 cents a head, onions 2 cents, new potatoes 18 cents a quarter peck, radishes 3 cents a bunch, kale 8 cents a quarter peck, cabbage cuttings 8 cents.

Meats and fish showed no material variations in prices.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.

This is to emphatically deny the rumor being circulated that the Steamer Volunteer will discontinue service between Washington D. C., and Proctors and the intermediate points after July 1st. As advertised this boat will be kept in service for twelve months each year, except when prevented by weather conditions. The rumor has no foundation whatever and is undoubtedly put out for damaging effect.

BLAMES GERMANY

FOR OUTRAGES

Should Proclaim Personal Responsibility of Emperor and Advisers

KAISER IS ARRAIGNED

"Nation Stands at Bar of World, a Naked and Unashamed Monster," Returned to Barbarism."

London, May 15—Riots which occurred earlier in the week have given place to condemnation by public men of the German Emperor and his advisers, who are charged with responsibility for actions which have aroused public anger. The demand is made that Great Britain publicly proclaim the personal responsibility of members of the German government for "the outrages perpetrated by German officers or their agents during the present war."

A resolution in this sense offered at a public meeting in Chelsea last night by Lord Charles Beresford was unanimously passed.

Lord Beresford urged that all German property in the British empire be confiscated, and that all rich Germans, whether naturalized or not, be interned until "British prisoners in Germany are treated as honorable prisoners of war."

Lord Robert Cecil said he had been told that Emperor William did not approve of what had been done, but the speaker declared that "if the German Emperor disapproved and allowed these things to go on, he was ten times more guilty, and must be punished; this must be one condition of any peace."

Lewis Harcourt, British Secretary of State for the Colonies, speaking at a meeting on the water front last night, said that Germany "stood at the bar of the world a naked and unashamed monster, simulating humanity, but in fact, a reversion to prehistoric barbarism."

ENDORSE PRESIDENT

No Emergency to Need Special Session of Congress

The consensus of opinion among statesmen now in Washington is that there is no such emergency as will require the summoning of Congress in special session.

"The President's note meets with my cordial approval," said Senator Martin, chairman of the Committee on Appropriations. "I do not see what good it would do for Congress to be here, for there is no emergency that the President cannot deal with.
I do not anticipate war, for I believe the President has left the way open for a reply on the part of Germany that will obviate such a situation."

"Should Germany refuse to comply with the suggestions of the President and accompany her refusal with some overt act of hostility against this country, the President without the previous sanction of Congress has ample authority to defend the integrity of the Union. He is commander-in-chief and could take such steps by way of defense as he saw fit. If it became necessary all the money appropriated for the manufacture of army and navy supplies intended for the next fiscal year could be used at once in anticipation of possible need and Congress would be here in ample time to appropriate whatever additional sums might be necessary."

APPROVES WILSON'S STAND

Westminster Gazette Discourages Advice or Comment

London, May 15—Referring to the note of President Wilson to the Government of Germany, the Westminster Gazette says:

"The central fact is that in the name of humanity and international law the United States demands a guarantee that the right of neutrals to travel over any portion of the seas, in neutral or belligerent vessels shall be respected. This is of profound importance not only to the present war but for the future peace and security of the world, and by dispatching this note the greatest of the neutral powers definitely takes a stand on maintaining the limits hitherto set down for warfare at sea."

"President Wilson is acting for the honor and the safety of the American people, and all of us who have the bias of belligerents will do well to spare him advice or comment in dealing with the situation which may arise out of the dispatch of this note."
"It is more than our cause which is at stake and more than our interest that have to be considered. We will merely take note of the fact that one of the greatest issues of the war is sharply defined in this note, and that the answer, whatever it may be, must make clear to the whole world whether or not Germany definitely abjures legal sanction to the limitations of that which hitherto has been unchallengeable between nations."

THE TRANSYLVANIA

No Word Received From Cunarder
Now Entering War Zone

New York, May 15—It was announced at the Cunard offices last night that no word had been received from the Transylvania, now approaching the war zone. Officials said they did not expect to hear from her until late today, when she should be in communication with the offices in London.

The Transylvania's best record is 5 days and 9 hours, her maximum speed being only 15 1-2 knots. She passed Sandy Hook at 9:10 P. M.
Friday, May 7. Going at best speed she should arrive in the vicinity where the Lusitania was torpedoed about 6 P. M. today.

The Anchor Line officials anticipated, however, that the ship probably would be late as only with the most favorable weather conditions could she maintain her maximum speed.

There is anxiety here over the possibility that the Transylvania may meet a fate similar to the Lusitania's.
When she left here Liverpool was her destination, but it is possible that her commander, Captain John Black may have received warning from the Admiralty to proceed instead to Glasgow.

The Transylvania carries a great cargo, of which much is contraband.
A German news agency has announced she is subject to attack by submarines. There are thirteen Americans among her first class passengers.

WORK TO GUARD ARMENIANS.

Doing All It Can, State Department Tells Petitioners.

Washington, May 15.—Replies are being prepared at the State Department to a flood of communications from various parts of the country arguing that steps be taken to protect native Christians in Armenia and in regions under Turkish control. Assurances will be given that the department is doing and will do all in its power to aid the Armenians reported to have been attacked.

No recent report from Ambassador Morganthau, who was directed, recently to take the matter up with the Turkish government, has been received. It was on his request, however, that Turkish regular troops were sent to Urumiah, Persia, to keep order. Officials assume that the Ottoman Government will be equally ready to afford protection in other quarters where outbreaks are reported.

It was pointed out that the feud between the native Christians in Persia and Armenians and the Kurds had endured for centuries and the present disturbed situation created by the European war was almost certain to be reflected in new outbreaks.

The State Department has not been advised officially of the extent of the disturbances.

KAISER HAS NOT

RECEIVED NOTE

Delay Incident to Congestion of Italy Telegraph Lines

GERMANY WILL DEFY?

London Newspapers Say This Will Not Necessarily Mean War, But Will Aid the Allies.

Washington, May 15—A State Department message received at 10:01 a. m. today from Ambassador Gerard at Berlin, said the latter had not received President Wilson's note to Germany at 7 p. m.

Inasmuch as the communication cleared from Rome at 3:45 p. m. Friday, department officials attributed the delay to congestion of the Italian telegraph lines.

London, May 15—The British press generally regards it as foregone conclusion that Germany will refuse to comply with President Wilson's demands that she abandon, or substantially change, her methods of submarine warfare.

The London newspapers today take the view that this does not necessarily mean war between Germany and the United States. They were almost unanimous, however, in declaring that Germany's refusal will throw not only the moral support of the United States, but material aid also, to the side of the allies. The provincial papers, as well as those of London, commend the President's note as a remarkable appeal to the better side of Germany, in behalf of all humanity.

A TICKLISH SITUATION

Speaker Clark, However, Confident That Wilson Will Preserve Peace With Honor

Bowling Green, Mo., May 15.— Speaker Champ Clark has prepared the following statement on the American note to Germany:

"The American note on the awful tragedy of the Lusitania will attract world-wide attention, not only by reason of the gravity of the situation and the importance of the subject matter but also by reason of the clear from and dignified statement of the case."

"In all human probability it will rank as a great state paper. It goes without saying that the situation is exceedingly ticklish, and while many of our people are prone to look upon diplomacy of little value, nevertheless the fact remains that diplomacy has hitherto ironed out several quarrels and entanglements which seemed to presage our entrance into war. We have no doubt that President Wilson will succeed in preserving peace with honor."

"The last sentence in the note asserting the right of the administration to maintain the rights of Americans and Americans will be most generously applauded. One thing is certain—the American people will sustain the President in this crisis for they doubt not his ability or his patriotism."

SUBMARINE'S REPORT

Berlin, May 14—From the report received from the submarine which sank the unad Line steamer Lusitania, last Friday, the following official version of the incident is published by the admiralty staff under the signature of Admiral Behncke:

"The submarine sighted the steamer which showed no flag, May 7, at 2:20 o'clock central European time, afternoon, on the southeast coast of Ireland, in fine, clear weather."

"At 3:10 o'clock one torpedo was fired at the Lusitania, which hit her starboard side below the captain's bridge. The detonation of the torpedo was followed immediately by a further explosion of extremely strong effect. The ship quickly listed to starboard and began to sink."

GAS ON TO CURE TOOTHACHE

Wife Finds George Hildebrand With Tube In Mouth

Baltimore, May 15—Frightened at finding her husband, George Hildebrand, had disappeared from their bedroom, Mrs. Christina Hildebrand, 941 North Washington street, hurried to the kitchen before 5 o'clock yesterday morning and found him with his mouth closed around one of the gas jets. The stop was turned on.

She pulled him away and then telephoned to the Northwestern Police Station. The pulmotor of the Consolidated Gas Electric Light and Power Company was dispatched to the home and in a short time Hildebrand was out of danger.

Mrs. Hildebrand explained to the police that her husband had been suffering from a toothache and adopted the gas means to ease his pain.

RIOT AT ARMS PLANT

Rush Order of Ammunition to Take Place of That Lost in Lusitania Causes Serious Clash

Bridgeport, Conn., May 15—While a rush order for 4,000 cases of ammunition to replace that lost when the Lusitania was torpedoed was being packed at the plant of the Remington Arms U. M. C. Company, in this city, feeling over the sinking of the liner and the war in general precipitated a riot that nearly cost several lives.

Crowbars, shovels and ammunition boxes were used when English speaking workmen were attacked by giant Hungarian speaking laborers.

The foreman of the gang, Frank Devitt, was being beaten with a crowbar when he was rescued by Mayor Louis Herman. He was taken to the emergency hospital with a deep dent in his skull and bruises.

He will recover.
Nicholas Neary, another workman was beaten murderously with a shovel but was rescued. The foreign born fighters were repulsed after many minutes terrific fighting and fled from the plant.

CALISCH TALKS ON

LUSITANIA'S FATE

Richmond Rabbi Says Sinking of Big Ship Shocked the World

VIOLATED HUMANITY.

Nation Would Have Gained Much More Had It Omitted Opportunity to Destroy Vessel.

Richmond, May 15—Whatever military advantage, if any, Germany gained as a result of the sinking of the Lusitania was immeasurably overbalanced by the loss of prestige and esteem that it has experienced in the eyes of the civilized world.
This is the view of Dr. Edward N.
Calisch as expressed in a sermon last night at the Beth Ahabah Synagogue. "I am not saying this," he said "because it was Germany. I would say the same thing had it been England or France or any other of the belligerent nations responsible for the sinking of the ship."

The scriptural basis for the sermon was the incident in Exodus where the Israelites, on leaving Egypt, found the sea in front, high hills on both sides and Pharaoh and his army in their rear, this leading them to complain that they might as well have been left to serve the Egyptians as to die in the wilderness.

In the case of both individuals and of nations, said Dr. Calisch, there is a duty to humanity that cannot be thrust aside. He said that if Germany had devoted its splendid energies and abilities to the good of humanity instead of in the manner in which it has applied those energies and abilities, it would not today be battling for its very existence.

"The sinking of the Lusitania," said Dr. Calisch, "was something that gave a shock to the moral sense of the world." This was, he said, because that feeling of duty to humanity which should prevail among nations as with individuals was not recognized by Germany, or, if recognized, was not heeded.

Dr. Calisch said he wanted to recall a sentence that he used in a sermon a week previous. He said that in that address he was discussing education and touched the thought that education should be placed on a moral basis. He recalled that he remarked that Germany was in some respects the most learned and the best educated nation in the world; that it was a nation of scholars and that industrially and commercially, it had made wonderful use of its resources.
"But I added," said Dr. Calisch, "that its education, as thorough as it is, had not saved it from hatred, from violence and from war. That sentence was written before the Lusitania was torpedoed."

Dr. Calisch added that the incident of the sinking of the big liner justified the observations he had made touching the nature of the education that characterizes Germany.

It would have been a far greater victory for Germany, said Dr. Calisch, to have let the opportunity go by to destroy the Lusitania than to have taken advantage of that opportunity. The duty we owe to humanity is one that cannot be lost, that cannot be put aside, that cannot be pressed under foot without a retributive penalty, Dr. Calisch insisted.

END OF FISHING SEASON

Advent of Mayflies Marks Close of Another Unsatisfactory Catch in The Potomac

The easterly wind which prevailed early last night brought swarms of mayflies, which hovered around electric lights at street intersections. Myriads fell to roadways and were crushed by pedestrians. The arrival of these winged insects is generally indicative of the close of the fishing season.

The fishery in the Potomac this spring has been about on a line with others which have preceded during the past decade. It has been unsatisfactory, and advices show that it has been equally disappointing elsewhere. Net fishing on the Susquehanna presumably closes June 10, but last night there was not a light on the river. Hauling seines have been withdrawn, more than 1,500 men thrown out of employment and 200 fishing boats with outfits amounting to $500 each pulled out on the shore.

The food fish that come into the river apparently have been exterminated. Shad, herring, perch and kindred species are sacrificed to the pound or stake nets that line both shores of the bay.

The pack of herring, normally 15,000 barrels, has dwindled to less than 4,000. Shad, that in 1880 numbered 19,000 has fallen to less than 1,000 this season. Packers had arranged to prepare for market 50,000 barrels. They have handled but 4,000 barrels.

PUBLISHED DAILY

By the Alexandria Gazette Corporation.

ROBERT S. BARRETT, President and General Manager.

HOWARD W. SMITH, Secretary and Treasurer.

Entered at the Postoffice of Alexandria, Virginia, as second class matter.

"THE TYRANT'S PLEA OF NECESSITY."

The caption of this article was used by the elder Snowden in 1866, the year following the close of the war between the states. Up to that time the Gazette was practically muzzled by bayonets which glistened in Alexandria, and had the Gazette published any criticism of the drastic measures in evidence during the dark period of reconstruction, the writer would have been sent to Fort Warren. One of the editorial staff a few months before had written an interesting but scorching article on the procedure of the military authorities in connection with alleged Christmas rioters who had been sent to Fort Warren by a Federal court. He closed in the words of Madame Roland—"O Liberty, Liberty, what crimes are committed in thy name!" The senior editor deemed it prudent to keep out of print what expressed the righteous indignation of every Alexandrian.

"The Tyrant's Plea of Necessity" was handled ably by the venerable editor, he referring to the main crimes committed by the mighty during past centuries in extenuation for which necessity was urged, and showed the repetition of such outrages upon civilization in Sherman's march to the sea and Sheridan's devastation of the Valley of Virginia. Sheridan, it will be remembered, had boasted that after he had burned homes and destroyed crops in this section it would be necessary for a crow flying over the scene of ruin to carry its ration.

The world is again confronted with the "Tyrant's Plea of Necessity," and there is every reason to suppose that Emperor William will fortify himself upon that flimsy ground when he shall have answered President Wilson's note. He, like many of his predecessors, sears his conscience with the assumption that anything is right in war in order to crush enemies, and that when helpless non-combatants and women and children get in the path of his juggernaut it is their misfortune, not his fault.

Most German-Americans do not justify this cruel course, and the fact that representative natives of that country, now naturalized citizens of the United States, are backing President Wilson in his protest against such procedures, shows that Germany is losing the moral support even of her own offspring.

COMMON HALLUCINATION.

The College Volks Zeitung, commenting upon expressions of American opinion concerning the sinking of the Lusitania, says:

"Americans are very prone to criticize without any expectation that such fighting with words will make any great impression on those whom they denounce. They feel relieved when they have given frank expression of their irritation. In America, however, war is most unpopular because it requires so many sacrifices and destroys business. There is no need therefore, to apprehend that America will join the war against us."

In the past history of the world it has been shown that Mars has sons ready for eventualities in every country and in every walk of life. But the average Teuton takes it for granted that only those who have passed their lives under drill sergeants are capable of accomplishing anything upon the fields of battle. They supposed England was too much engrossed in commercialism to fight and that France had become effeminate from gay life. They have had their illusions dispelled during the past eight or nine months. Germans are now regarding the United States with contempt, from a military point of view, now that grave conditions exist between this country and the Fatherland. Allusion is occasionally made to the German map maker who made his own country take up two-thirds of his drawing and pointed to a small island on which he placed the United States. The mantle of this dreamer seems to have fallen upon the present generation.

The United States since its inception has endeavored to avoid war. George, the Third could have saved his American possessions had he showed any purpose to deal fairly with the colonies. In subsequent clashes the country has worked in the interests of peace and only resorted to arms when compelled to defend its honor or check the encroachments of other nations. The arrows are still in the left claw of the American eagle, and should war come, Germany will find that America is not to be disarmed by a nation that conducts its diplomacy with the rattle of sabres.

GERMANY'S CHOICE.

The Philadelphia Record says:

"At the outset of the European war Germany made one ruinous mistake in her calculations. She counted upon the unwillingness of Great Britain to make the sacrifice necessary to uphold her treaty obligations. In defense of an historic 'scrap of paper' the British Government unexpectedly cast its lot with France and Russia, and the whole course of events as Germany had foreseen them was changed in a twinkling. What was to have been an easy victory in overwhelming force became a campaign of desperation, with the outcome nearly ten months from the beginning of the war, still in the balance."

"Germany is now face to face with a new situation in which she cannot afford to make another egregious error. In committing the series of aggressions against the United States for which this Government has just called her to a stern accounting she may have been misled, as she was in the case of Great Britain at the outset of the war, by false information. Our patience and forbearance practiced until the moment when they ceased to be virtues, may have convinced her that we could with safety be affronted. Her agents may have conveyed to the Foreign Office at Berlin erroneous reports of the state of public sentiment in this country, and of the seeming reluctance of a pacific people to resort to extreme measures in support of their rights under international law and their obligations to humanity."

"Does Germany court the enmity of the strongest neutral Power in the world? Is her vision so concentrated on a present illusion that she cannot see a few years into the future? Is she about to perpetrate the second colossal blunder of her struggle for a 'place in the sun?' We doubt it. In any event, she must make the choice of peace with honor, or war in behalf of a policy repugnant to civilization, Christianity and humanity, with her eyes open."

IN THE EVENT OF HOSTILITIES.

A contemporary sums up conditions should the United States and Germany clash as follows:

"In the event of Germany refusing to be led into the ways of law and order in its attitude toward the lives and property of neutrals, the United States will have the recourse open to it of withdrawing from all official relations with Germany, and ignoring the existence of the outlawed power. This would place the United States in the position of a neutral friend to the Allies. It would then turn all its full trade energies to the giving of them aid and supplies—munitions of war and all other. Conveyed by its torpedobed destroyers, the craft that the submarine dreads as a rat does a ferret, its ships could traverse the seas in comparative freedom from peril. In case of war Germany could not reach the shores of America. It cannot fight the American fleet. A state of war would be created that could not be made effective. But this country would seize all the interned German ships. But the position of a friendly neutral would doubtless be maintained, as Germany could not gain but would lose heavily through a declaration of war."

NEWS OF THE DAY

President Wilson left Washington for New York about 8 o'clock last night aboard the naval yacht Mayflower.

Figures made public in Washington by the British Embassy indicate the ineffectiveness of the German submarine campaign. Foreign trade of United Kingdom has shown remarkable elasticity since opening of German submarine campaign.

A Dutch trawler was bombarded by a German aeroplane and sunk in the North Sea, according to information brought to the port of Ymuiden by other trawlers. The attack was made Wednesday morning. Three bombs were dropped. The crew is reported to have been killed.

A German submarine is reported to have been sunk in the North Sea. The captain of the steamer Collairnie on reaching Plym, England, stated that his vessel apparently had destroyed the submarine by running it down off the Northumberland coast.

World Court Congress delegates at Cleveland yesterday privately and in public speeches commended President Wilson's stand, endorsed the tenor of his note to Germany, and decried the possibility of the United States to war.

A dispatch from Moudros, Island of Lemnos, says: "Two British submarines, which succeeded in traversing the Dardanelles and entering the Sea of Marmara a fortnight ago, were admitted by the Germans to have sunk two Turkish transports."

Five year old Charles Allen White, while fishing from his grandfather's wharf, at Laurel, Del., Thursday, was pulled overboard by a large catfish and drowned. When the body was recovered the line was wrapped around the lad's wrist and the fish fastened on the hook.

Fighting among the rebels and the adherents of the government is continuing to the west of Cape Haitien, but as yet no decisive outcome has been reached. Two generals of the government have been captured and executed by shooting. The casualties on both sides are numerous.

Six firemen were crushed under a falling brick wall in Newark, N. J., yesterday while fighting a $300,000 fire, which burned three four-story buildings of the leather manufacturing plant of George Stengel, Inc. Some of the firemen are so severely injured that they may not recover.

Two secret service men are trailing an elderly, mild-looking German around New York, following letters containing threats against President Wilson. Letters containing threats to shoot the President on his visit to New York to review the fleet had been received at the White House, in Washington, under Jacksonville postmarks.

While Germans and Austrians were being interned there was another anti-German outbreak in London yesterday afternoon. In East London the police had to charge a mob with drawn clubs. Many buildings were wrecked. Five hundred rioters destroyed the twenty buildings at Grayesend, where the riot was more than the police could handle.

A posse is searching for the slayer of three brothers, whose bodies were found Wednesday night on their farm near Lowry, Minn., Wednesday. They had been clubbed to death. They were John Anund and Stern Mittonen. Evidence of a struggle were found. It is not believed by the authorities that the murderer was after money, as a large amount was found in a coat of one of the men.

A dispatch from Petrograd says the Germans in the north have now all been driven to the westward of the River Dubissa. They have a small force still at Libau where the Russians a month ago emptied the grain elevators when Baltic grain exports were stopped. The Germans have two corps which have much weakened above East Prussia chiefly on the road to Tauraggen. The invasion was permitted because the Russian general staff had determined to continue preparations for an advance in Poland, to frustrate Mackenz's movement eastward below Cracow. Gen. Mackenz's army is now in a difficult position, exhausted and without fresh reserves.

VIRGINIA NEWS

Governor Stuart says: "I am sure the country will endorse the firm and unmistakable stand taken by the President for the safety of our nation on the high seas and for the proper respect for our flag."

Caught in the swing of a huge concrete bucket and smashed with terrific force against timber construction, Mark Barrett, of Chincoteague, a laborer on the improvements under way at the reservoir, at Atascos, was instantly killed Thursday.

The State Department yesterday announced the selection of Dr. Edwin A. Alderman, president of the University of Virginia, as one of the American members of the commission provided for in the Bryan peace treaty between the United States and Russia.

Acting Secretary of the Treasury

Byron E. Newton has approved the plans of the United States Public Health Service to establish a field hospital in Wise county, for the treatment of trachoma, which has attained a serious stage of infection throughout the mountainous sections of southwest Virginia.

The Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs, organized in 1907, met for the first day of its annual convention at Fairfax this week. The opening meeting was held in the court house. In the evening there was a delightful reception in the Town Hall. Mrs. E. W. Howard, of Alexandria, is first vice-president.

Emmet S. Goodrich, 63 years old, committed suicide in Petersburg yesterday by blowing off a part of his head with a shot gun. He was employed at the Seward trunk factory and had been in ill health for some time. He came to Petersburg about 10 years ago from Henderson, North Carolina. He had been twice married and is survived by a number of children.

The large passenger steamer Colusa of the New York and Pacific Steamship Company is due to sail from Norfolk May 18 for San Francisco on the first of what may be a regular line of passenger steamers from Norfolk to the Panama Canal and Pacific Coast. The Colusa will be the first passenger and freight vessel bound from New York or other Atlantic ports to call by Norfolk and load on her way to the Pacific Coast.

The loss of the bark Matanzas, bound from Norfolk to a Spanish port with coal, is announced in a letter received from Capt. A. H. Gray, of the schooner Bayard Barnes, which arrived at Para, Brazil, from Norfolk recently. The Bayard Barnes picked-up a boat containing Capt. Harry Nuss, of the Matanzas, the steward and one man, all who were left of a crew of 10 men. They were absolutely helpless, having been long adrift and five days without water. The other sailors had perished from privation. Captain Gray says the bark was lost in a gale.

The Canter brothers reached Richmond yesterday afternoon. A small crowd assembled at the station to get a look at the men who were charged with having committed the most infamous crime in the history of the State. The men were at once placed in the prison carriage and taken to the penitentiary where they will be kept until the day of execution. When the men were informed that the officers had come to take them from Roanoke to Richmond, James, the younger of the two, broke down and cried. Luther still insists that James had nothing to do with the crime, he admitting that he alone did it.

"THE DIAMOND FROM THE SKY."

Probably the greatest of all serials will begin at the Richmond Theatre next Tuesday. Sir Arthur Stanley, the second son of the powerful Lord Cecil Stanley, of Stanley Castle, Warwickshire, England, has been banished from the court of King James and after fleeing to America, leaves the protection of the Ports of Jamestown and is captured by the Indians. Just as the flames begin to leap about him, it being the purpose of the Indians to burn him at the stake, a great meteor falls at his feet and imbedded in its fells is "The Diamond From The Sky." Thus begins the ownership of the treasure and incidentally causes the release of Sir Arthur Stanley. This was in the year 1615; the scene changes to the year 1882 in the month of June in the County of Fairfax, Virginia. The family hatred existing between Sir Arthur Stanley and his brother, Judge Lamar Stanley is produced in detail; the one kind, dignified, courteous and charitable; the other morbid and almost vicious in its selfishness. The fight for the possession of the jewel begins. Children are born to the families of the two brothers, bringing the time up to the present. From this point begins the most exciting and thrilling reproduction of actual scenes which takes place within a very few miles of Alexandria, and in one picture there is shown very plainly the present station at Fairfax on the Southern Railway.

A few weeks ago the different exhibitors throughout the country, after midnight witnessed twelve reels of this series at the Grandall Theatre in Washington and a contract was immediately closed with the producers. On Tuesday of next week Chapter I consisting of three reels will be shown and the public of Alexandria should not fail to visit this theatre that night and see the beginning of a prize serial out of several hundreds submitted and which is now being circulated throughout the country. A TWICE-TOLD TALE

One of Interest to Our Readers

Good news bears repeating, and when it is confirmed after a long lapse of time, even if we hesitated to believe it at first hearing, we feel secure in accepting its truth now. The following experience of an Alexandria man is confirmed after several years.

J. T. Langley, 513 Queen street, Alexandria, says: "I had a bad back and I think the trouble was caused by a strain. I could not stoop and when I got up in the morning, I could hardly move. I noticed sediment in the kidney secretions. The many good reports I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills led me to get a box at Leadbeater & Son's Drug Store. They fixed me up in fine shape. During the past few years since Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of kidney complaint, I have had no trouble. I confirm the praise I have previously given this remedy."

WISHED SHE COULD DIE

And Be Free From Her Troubles but Finds Better Way.

Columbia, Tenn.—"Many a time," says Mrs. Jessie Sharp, of this place, "I wished I would die and be relieved of my suffering, from womanly troubles. I could not get up, without pulling a something to help me, and stayed in bed most of the time. I could not do my housework."

The least amount of work tired me out. My head would swim, and I would tremble for an hour or more. Finally, took Cardui, the woman's tonic, and am not bothered with pains any more and I don't have to go to bed. In fact I am sound and well of all my troubles."

Cardui goes to all the weak spots and helps to make them strong. It acts with nature—not against her. It is for the tired, nervous, irritable women, who feel as if everything were wrong, and need something to quiet their nerves and strengthen the worn-out system.

If you are a woman, suffering from any of the numerous symptoms of womanly trouble, take Cardui. It will help you. At all druggists.

GERMAN-AMERICAN VIEWS
All Agree That they Should Stand By Country of Their Adoption New York, May 15.—Herman Ridder says:

"The attitude assumed by the President, in the note delivered to the German government, toward the infringement of our rights on the seas is diplomatically correct, and must compel the support of the entire American people."

"We have suffered grievously at the hands of more than one of the belligerent nations, but for the moment we are dealing only with Germany. The note recites a series of events which the government of the United States could not silently pass by; and demands reparation for American lives lost and American property destroyed, and a guarantee that the rights of the United States and its citizens shall be observed in the future. All this the German government may well grant, frankly and unreservedly and without loss of honor or prestige. It would be incomprehensible if it did not do so."

"The possibilities are there and the President, I am confident, will overlook no possibility of advancing the cause of an early return of peace to Europe nor leave any untaken stone to free this country of the dangers and inconveniences which have become the concomitants of the European struggle."

There are three striking points in German-American opinion as expressed in these newspapers. First—Although in many cases with expressions of deep sorrow, all editors agree that the primary duty of German-Americans is to stand by the country of their adoption.

Second—With scarcely an exception, German-American editors have abandoned the attempt to excuse or justify the sinking of the Lusitania, and several admit that Germany must be called to account.

Third—There is a general feeling that in calling Germany more strictly to account than he has called Britain the President has shown bias.

New York, May 15.—Since the sinking of the Lusitania, the number of Germans applying for naturalization in this city has increased nearly 300 per cent., it is stated by Naturalization Commissioner Weiser, in the Federal Building.

Mr. Weiser added that the greatest number of applications for some time had come from Russians, and that the Germans were at the foot of the list until recently. Now they are side by side with the Russians, he declared.

OPPOSE REPATRIATION
Germans and Austrians in London Appeal to American Consulate—Prefer Internment

London, May 15.—Germans and Austrians again besieged the American consulate today, but instead of demanding protection for themselves and their property they sought the aid of the American officials to prevent their being repatriated in consequence of the decision of the government announced yesterday by Premier Asquith. Most of the callers at the consulate were either over or under the internment age. Many were women with their children.

These persons explained that for years their homes had been in this country and that their deportation to Germany or Austria would be regarded by them as a greater calamity than internment here.

The American consul general, Robert P. Skinner, took their statement but was unable to promise any action in their behalf further than the transmission of their requests to the proper authorities.

Large numbers of persons affected by the government's plan are surrendering hourly rather than await their immediate disposition is puzzling the police, as the camps for them are not ready for use.

DERNBURG IS SILENT.
Refuses to Comment on Wilson's Note to Germany

New York, May 15.—Dr. Bernhard Dernburg, former colonial secretary of the German Empire, declined to comment today on the administration's note to Germany.

"Dr. Dernburg must absolutely refuse to discuss the American note to the German government," his secretary said. "He has nothing to say."

Later in the day Dr. Dernburg, replying to a written question asking for his views on the American note, sent back to interview a paper on which was written, above his signature:

"Ever since my arrival here I have made it a point not to mix with any matter under official discussion between the United States and Germany. I think it wise not to deviate from this policy, and I have no statement to make."

An Interview With Mr. Ford

The following interview was given by Mr. Ford to one of the aggressive Ford agents, who returned to his home and gave it to his territory in the following newspaper advertisement.

This is the most Important Advertisement I Ever Caused to be Published.—Read Every Word—and then Marvel.

On a personal visit to Mr. Henry Ford I broached the subject of a possible August 1st Rebate.

(The Ford Company announced last year—as you well remember—that if their total sales reached 300,000 cars between August 1, 1914, and August 1, 1915, each purchaser during that period would receive back a refund of $40. to $60.)

"Mr. Ford," I suggested, "Is there anything I can say to our people with regard to the Ford Motor Company's 300,000 car rebate plan?"

"We shall sell the 300,000," was the quiet reply—"and in 11 months, a full month ahead of August 1st."

"Then a refund is practically assured."

"Yes—barring the totally unexpected. We are 50,000 to 75,000 cars behind orders today. Factory and branches are sending out 1800 daily."

I then said to Mr. Ford: "If I could make a definite refund statement we would increase our local sales 500 cars."

"You may say," was Mr. Ford's deliberate and significant reply to this—"You may say that we shall pay back to each purchaser of a Ford car between August 1, 1914, and August 1, 1915, barring the unforeseen, the sum of $50. You may say that I authorized you to make this statement."

What can I add to the above? $15,000,000 cash coming back to Ford owners and to prospective Ford owners up to August 1, 1915, it actually means—Ford Touring Cars for $490—less the $50 rebate. Ford Runabouts for $440—less the $50 rebate. What is there left for me to say?
